THE GORLETT C.P.

A Magnificent Yacht Race.

The Mayflower the Winner and the Puritan Second.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 7. When the sun rose this morning it was almost a calm on the waters of the harbor, but in a few minutes a breeze from the east had sprung up, and the race for the great prize for the Goletts cups, as it is known, was on.

The Mayflower, a schooner, owned by Mr. J. W. Mayflower, and the Puritan, a schooner, owned by Mr. J. W. Mayflower, were the only boats entered.

The arrivals at Bar Harbor for the month of July by the Maine Central road alone averaged 277 per day.

The sportsmen are taking advantage of the open time for play, and are making some very good hauls.

The new poles for the additional alarm boxes are being put in place. The wires have already been extended into West Bangor.

On the first page this morning will be found an interesting account of the visit of the Maine Central Exploration party to Bangor.

There are a large number of summer visitors in Bangor at present and in the churches yesterday many strange faces were to be seen.

The remains of a New York tourist, who died at Seal Harbor last week, were brought up from Bar Harbor last evening and forwarded to New York.

It is understood that Collector Redman will remove the Internal Revenue office from the old building at Bangor to the new building at Bangor.

The Bowdoin College Theta Chapter of the Delta Kappa Epsilon Fraternity contemplate the erection of an elegant society hall on or near the college grounds.

F. W. Ayer & Co. are soon to build on the Brewer's shore, near their steam mill, an ice-house with a capacity of 15,000 tons. It will be ready for use next winter.

Mr. Ed Spencer of Bradley is to lumber very heavily on Squaw Mountain Township in the coming winter. No operators have had large crews there for several seasons.

The additional five acres of land at Maplewood is now being enclosed and made a part of the park. New sheds are being built and other improvements made in that section.

The Portland Express says Governor Robie, of Maine, made a speech at Seal Lake City the other day and before night he had secured a large number of subscribers to the Portland Express.

Work on the extension of the Sanford street sewer through Mr. Father O'Brien's property has commenced under the direction of City Engineer Combs. The sewer will be extended about 400 feet.

The foreign experts from the port of Bangor for the past week were valued at $912.72 and included 153 tons of ice, 35 1/2 tons of white pine shingles, and 30 1/2 tons of shingles to Cape May, per schooner Mary E. Douglas.

Mr. F. E. Newcomb, the genial agent of the Maine Portland Association, met with success in Brownville last week, selling $25,000 worth of insurance there. This week he goes to Milo, where there is an equally good field for labor.

A pair of horses made a wild runaway on Summer street Saturday evening, attached to a pair of forward wheels. They passed down into Pleasant Square, where the pole struck a telegraph pole, bringing them to a dead stop, and the horses were easily captured.

Another New Brunswick engine has been recently remodeled at Acadia Junction and goes upon the road as an example of the finest work which can be done by the mechanics in the employ of the road. This one is number 15 and is a very powerful engine.

Rev. G. W. Hinckley of this city preached at North Newbury last week and in the afternoon baptized thirty persons at Lake Umbagog. In the evening fifteen persons were baptized at the Christian and Apostolic churches. Rev. Mr. Hinckley and Rev. Mr. Whitney officiating.

The Gardiner hose companies are making great preparations for the firemen's tournament there, August 25th. They are practicing daily with the intention of retrieving their bad fortune met with at Augusta July 4th. It would be a good scheme to arrange a hose race in Bangor.

A very interesting meeting was held yesterday under the auspices of the Reformed Church. The exercises consisted of speeches by reformed men and ladies of the Crusade. Deacons White also added words of cheer to the cause. A number signed the pledge.

The foundation for the new depot at Newport is nearly completed and work on the structure is to be pushed very rapidly. A roof will be constructed over the platform of the depot to enable the passengers to take cover as it stands at the depot. A new line of track will be built to enable the same train to turn and move into position without going upon the main line.

At the complimentary banquet tendered the retiring Clerk of the Railway Mail Service, Mr. J. E. Jeffers, in August, at the Hotel de Ville, several speeches were made by Mr. G. J. Prentiss, of Bangor, and Mr. G. J. Prentiss, of Bangor, and Mr. G. J. Prentiss, of Bangor.

The affair was a complete success in every particular and a splendid tribute to Mr. Jeffers.

Mr. James Springer, who lives on Essex street, met with a severe accident at Seal Harbor last Saturday evening. He turned his horse quickly, and in so doing the horse slipped and he was thrown to the ground, breaking his collar bone and otherwise seriously injuring him. Mr. Springer was brought to his home and attended by a physician. He was in comfortable condition yesterday as could be expected.

The Ralph Ross caught a great crowd down his stream about 6 o'clock Saturday afternoon. There were nearly all the passengers on board that day, and they were all bound for the same resort. It was raining yesterday morning when the tug was due to leave the city on the regular Sunday excursion, and although there was a large crowd on the wharf, she took only those who cared to stay over night down the river.

LOSS OF A SKEWER. The schooner F. A. Dealer, well known in this city and having a long record, was in the harbor at Seal Harbor last Friday morning when she was struck by a large log and sank. The schooner was fully insured. The F. A. Dealer was owned in Seal Harbor and was built at Seal Harbor in 1867. She was a cargo of 50,000 to 60,000 barrels.

DEATH OF MR. JAMES PARKS.

Mr. James Parks, well known as the driver of a stage between Stillwater and this city for a number of years past, died suddenly at his home in Stillwater Saturday morning at six o'clock. Mr. Parks was a native of Maine and was a member of the Maine Cavalry and a general favorite with his friends. He was a charter member of S. J. G. Post No. 121, G. A. R., of Old Town, and will be buried to-day with Grand Army honors. In this city he was well known to our business men and made many friends by his genial and accommodating ways.

north side finds a thick growth of spruce timber nearly to the top of the North Peak. The tree stand so near together and their slender branches so nearly meet that he gets no idea of the height he is reaching, as the rise is not readily appreciated. Therefore when he reaches the timber line, and the trees rise to a more rapid growth and he glances around him, the sight that meets his eyes is truly a revelation. He is standing on the side of the mountain.

BREAKFAST.

Thorough knowledge of the natural laws of the human system, and the application of a careful application of the fine art of well-blended food, Mr. Hyatt has created tables with a delicious beverage which may serve us, "many heavy meals," and which will not only satisfy the diet that a constitution may be gradually losing its strength, but will give us the means of restoring it. It is a food lacking around us nearly to stink where we find it. It is a food that is not only lost by keeping ourselves "ill," fortified with the aid of a properly nourished man, Dr. Hyatt's Gaidia.

It is used with boiling water or milk. Sold in all the principal cities of the world.
